

I CLAIM AS MY INVENTION

1. A security device for entrance doors comprising of a wall bracket mounted adjacent to the door trim on the opening side of the door and a door bracket mounted on the face of the door on the opening side with a neoprene/rubber belt affixed to the wall bracket rotating to the door bracket engaging door bracket allowing partial viewing by occupant while the door remains secure.
2. A security device as claimed in claim 1. To prevent unaware exiting of youth or toddler of residence